DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-10, 13-15, 21, and 25-28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on May 15, 2006.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

- The fifth word, "shown", in line 10 of page 12 should be removed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11, 12, 18, 19, 20, 22, and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 6,241,106 to Fujita et al.

In regard to claims 11 and 19, Fujita et al. disclose a movable storage system comprising: a plurality of moving 21 and fixed 3 storage racks or elements (see FIG. 1); a guide arrangement 2a,2b for guiding movement of the racks; each of said movable storage racks 21 including vertically-oriented lower wheels 20 for rolling in contact with a floor; and at least one spacing element 35 for controlling an amount of space between adjacent ones of said plurality of racks when a spacing element of one of the plurality of racks contacts a spacing element of an adjacent one of the plurality of racks.

In regard to claim 12, Fujita et al. further disclose each of said spacing elements including at least one arm 34 located spaced from the rack on which the spacing element is mounted (see FIG. 2).

In regard to claims 18 and 20, said guide arrangement 2a,2b is anchored to said fixed racks 3, with said fixed racks disposed at the longitudinal ends of said guide arrangement (see FIG. 1; see col. 1, ln. 32-35).

In regard to claim 22, said guide arrangement comprises two guide rods 2a and 2b (see FIG. 1).

In regard to claim 29, said fixed elements are storage racks, as set forth above (see FIG. 1).

Claims 19, 20, 22-24, and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 4,941,578 to Devening.

In regard to claim 19, Devening discloses a storage system comprising: a plurality of storage racks 13 including movable storage racks, said movable storage racks being movable between fixed elements (see col. 1, ln. 64-68) located at opposite sides of a group of the movable storage racks, the movable storage racks including lower wheels 18 for rolling in contact with the floor, a guide arrangement 25 for guiding movement of the movable storage racks, and at least one spacing element for controlling an amount of space between adjacent ones of the movable storage racks (see FIG. 2).

In regard to claims 20 and 22, said guide arrangement 25 includes a guide rod/rail that extends between the fixed elements (see col. 1, ln. 61-65).

In regard to claim 23, said guide rod cooperates with a guide sleeve 22 mounted on the movable storage racks (see FIGS. 1 and 4).

In regard to claim 24, said guide sleeve is mounted on a plate 20, the plate forming the spacing element (see FIG. 4)

In regard to claim 29, said fixed elements are fixed storage racks (see FIG. 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '106 to Fujita et al. as applied to claims 11, 12, 18, 19, 20, 22, and 29 above, alone.

In regard to claims 17 and 30, Fujita et al. discloses a rack system capable of storing various articles, but does not specifically set forth said system as storing tires. The Examiner takes Official Notice that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize the rack as disclosed by Fujita et al. for the storage of tires, or any other reasonably sized article. The system of Fujita et al. is capable of and would be a successful means for effectively storing tires.

Claims 17 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '578 to Devening as applied to claims 19, 20, 22, 23, and 29 above, alone. In regard to claims 17 and 30, Devening discloses a rack system capable of storing various articles, but does not specifically set forth said system as storing tires. The Examiner takes Official Notice that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize the rack as disclosed by Devening for the storage of tires, or any other reasonably sized article. The system of Devening is capable of and would be a successful means for effectively storing tires.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '106 to Fujita et al. as applied to claims 11, 12, 18, 19, 20, 22, and 29 above, and further in view of US Patent No. 3,691,590 to Drabert.

In regard to claim 16, Fujita et al. disclose the system set forth above, but do not disclose said wheels comprising a surrounding protective boot. Drabert discloses a castor for use with various types of furniture, whereby the castor comprises an outer protective boot 2 (see FIG. 1). The Fujita et al. and Drabert references are analogous art because they are from the same field of endeavor—wheeled furniture. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the wheels of the moving racks as disclosed by Fujita et al. with the protective boots or housings disclosed by Drabert. The motivation would have been that as set forth by Drabert—to prevent the racks from tipping over (see Abstract, ln. 7-8). Preventing said racks from tipping would be a useful precaution when said racks are removed from the guide assemblies as shown in Figure 4 (Fujita et al.).
